Once you know what you want to write about, outline the plot or structure of your book so you have something to refer to as you write. Your outline should include descriptions of major events and characters in your story. After you make an outline, come up with a writing schedule, like writing 300 words per day, and try your best to stick with it. Writing a book takes time, so don't get discouraged if you feel like you're not getting anywhere at first.
