With a pen in my hand and a lime green avocado face mask on I embarked on writing a short summary of 365 worth reading events in my life. In these pages are stories I recall from my poodle haired childhood and lead into my life as a girdle wearin, God fearin, full time nanny. My ultimate prayer is that you will learn as I have that God can show us His truth through any situation, no matter how chaotic. Maybe you share my love for my Savior and want a fresh way to look at His word, or maybe you just really need to laugh today. Either way, get ready for a years' worth of daily readings from your real life, less perfect, Mary Poppins.

A collection of true stories about acts of kindness witnessed or experienced by the contributors.

Can I guess what you want? If you are a business woman it's highly likely you are not just a business woman. You're a hard working, incredibly busy woman that happens to be passionate about your career as well as probably a million other things, whether that's kids, partners, pets, charities, hobbies or lovers (Ok so I've only suggested a few!) How do you create the time to go for your ambitions, goals and aspirations? Where do you create the space to be a woman that loves the life she is living? How do you know you are on the right track? What can you do when you feel like the delicate balance of your life is about to come crashing down around your ears? Where can you get simple easy to action ideas to increase your success levels and feel like you are in control of your life? You may be thinking that you need to add more skills to your repertoire, but since you hardly have time to leave the house looking great and cramming everything else in that needs doing, when are you going to have the time or the energy to add essential 21st Century business women skills to your Skill and mind set? There's a million books telling you how to run the most successful business, have happy kids and relationships, look good, feel good, be more confident, be a great public speaker, climb the ladder to success, cook, make more money, and even be a super saver - but when time is the most precious commodity you own, all you want is a sentence from someone that gives a dam about your success, to lay in the subconscious of your busy mind to get you started, and this book will do just that. No need to read the same sentence again and again because you are so shattered and you realise that you've not paid a word of attention to what you've just read because you were mentally planning your next day. No more never finishing the paragraph, let alone the book, because your brain is whirring with a million jobs. No more guilt tripping every time you walk past the book shelf, because you read the first chapter and then it is sat there gathering dust with the other books that could change your life. How to read this book Just pick this book up once a day and read that one sentence. It will share with you a little idea to help you be more organised, more confident, more successful, or even get a big fat smile on your face (that's genuine for a change and not the "Oh no, I've got to look like I'm holding this all together!") This book is based on years of working with business women who wanted to take their business to the next level, a ton of science and research and a lot of passion for your success. But basically this book is jammed packed with ideas to help you be the best version of you. You on a good day. In control. Getting results. Loving your life and having a ball! No long paragraphs, just short snappy sentences rammed full of highly successful ways to make it all work for you. Its 3 minutes of your day that will help you get Through all of the suffering and pain of 2020, whether economically, politically, racially, physically, mentally, etc., no one has been left unscathed. There is no question that the world needs a massive dose of happiness! But how do we attain it? Can mere words in a book change the world? The answer of course, is no. However, a daily dose of positive words is a healthy prescription for inspiring positive thoughts. Such thoughts can then inspire the kind, positive actions, which lead to the happiness that will transform the world. Every day we can get a DOSE of dopamine, oxytocin, serotonin, and endorphins, the happy chemicals our body release every time we take positive action! Hence the reason for this book. The nuggets included come from individuals from all walks of life including religious and non-religious leaders and influencers. They were specifically selected to inspire and uplift. While there are some nuggets with specifically religious content, the selected nuggets teach principles that everyone can learn from if they have an open mind. The book is organized like a simple workbook. Each day includes a nugget followed by a stated principle and a few brief paragraphs with my thoughts about the nugget. That is followed by a section for you to share your thoughts about the nugget, and to write down any actions you are inspired to take as a result of reading and pondering. It is my greatest hope that the carefully selected quotes included will lift your hearts and minds to greater heights and stir thoughts that will inspire you to take action. Such action will not only lead to your personal hope, renewal, and healing, but also lead to you helping others to receive the same gift.
